

RECENT GAINS PRESAGE EVEN GREATER EVENTS

Military Successes of Past Week Visibly Affects Popular Feeling in Berlin.

RUSSIANS BEING FORCED BACK

Further Developments in Galicia Awaited With Breathless Interest. Situation at Ypres Also Is Considered Highly Promising.

BERLIN, May 7 (via London).—Military successes of the past week have visibly affected popular feeling in Berlin. Operations in the Russian Baltic province of Courland, in Galicia and in Belgium, indicate a German offensive on a large scale, and are accepted as presaging even greater events.

It is understood in well-informed quarters that the German troops in Courland now are nearing the port of Libau, which probably will be attacked by land and sea. Field Marshal von Hindenburg himself is in command. His design appears to be to take Libau, and probably Riga as well, and use these ports as bases for harassing Russian communications with Petrograd.

The Russians already have sent reinforcements from Kovno for resisting these operations, the results of which soon must be apparent. The Russians also are attempting to resist the Austro-German advance in Galicia, and have brought up reinforcements from the Carpathians. Information received here, however, indicates that the Russians are being swept along before the Teutonic allies or else captured. Austrian reports say that a general Russian retreat is in progress, extending to the south of Dukla Pass, where weeks ago attacks on an impregnable Austrian front exhausted the initiative of the invaders.

DEVELOPMENTS IN GALICIA

AWAITED WITH INTEREST

Further developments in Galicia are awaited here with breathless interest. It is believed events there may give a decisive turn to the entire eastern campaign. The view held here is that the whole Russian position in the Carpathians has become precarious. It is expected that strong pressure is being brought to bear on the retreating Russians by the forces of General von Mackensen and Field Marshal Baron Hindenburg, which are advancing from the west.

The operation of the Austro-German force now threatening the Russian lines between the Dniester and Biala Rivers is regarded as a first-class performance from a German military standpoint, particularly as it is the result of a frontal attack against strongly fortified positions. The Austrians crossed the Dniester near its confluence with the Vistula, although the Russians were strongly protected behind a dike on the eastern bank. The Austrians, behind a dike on the west shore, advanced pontoons by night, cutting through the dike and depositing the pontoons among high reeds along the shore. They refilled and recaptured the cut each night. In this way a sufficient number of pontoons were opened on three nights for effecting a crossing. When these preparations had been completed, a terrific artillery bombardment enabled the Austrians to bridge the stream with comparatively little loss.

DESCRIBED AS UNPARALLELED ARTILLERY PERFORMANCE

The Austro-German attack near Gorlice is described as an unparalleled artillery performance. The Russians believed their position impregnable. The artillery of the allies, from forty-two kilometers down, so completely overcame the Russians, however, that the Austro-German infantry was able to take the opposing positions at the first rush.

These operations were veiled by a heavy bombardment of Russian positions along the Nida River, the Germans and Austrians bringing up a powerful force for the great push eastward toward Lemberg.

The Russians still hold one strong position on a range of hills more than 1,000 feet high, near Tuchow, but this position is threatened from both the north and south.

A generally believed in Berlin that operations in Galicia during the next ten days will yield big results.

The situation at Ypres, Belgium, where the Grand Duke of Wurttemberg is commanding, also is considered highly promising. It is believed here the British and French hardly will be able to hold the town of Ypres for another week. The Germans are said to have gained nearly three miles during the last few days, their opponents withdrawing steadily. Advances from the Belgian front say this retreat in places is a disorderly one, and that numerous dead or wounded soldiers are being left on the ground.
